

Welcome to Mukta

Mukta, a social service organization that brings good people and good causes together, stands on the power of volunteering. Our vision is to -

- Create a community of passionate, driven and creative individuals who wish to propel a social change.
- Build a strong collaboration and cooperation amongst the social change agents We believe that a strong public, private and social sector partnership is essential to create a systemic social change. Mukta aims to achieve the objective through:
 - Collaboration – Create an environment for cooperation and collaboration among the constituent organizations (nonprofits, corporate and government). It is in building this partnership that we could harness the power of volunteering.
 - Outreach – Working with credible nonprofit organizations. We seek to identify opportunities to help volunteers and nonprofits find each other, work together and develop strong relationships.
 - Communication – Disseminating information about relevant social initiatives through the website, e-groups and e-newsletters

- Empowerment – Make NGOs more effective and efficient.

Anyone who cares about and is relentless in the pursuit of building a more equitable society is welcome to join the Mukta community.
